Sabbatical / Israel Sabbatical : shabbaton : שבתון

In Torah, the fields of the land of Israel are to lie fallow every seventh year — no plowing, planting, tending; only “volunteer” grain, produce, fruit may be collected. (Brings to mind the extreme vegans who eat a fruit only if it falls from the tree of its own accord.)

The rest and recuperation of sabbatical is good for the plants and the planet. Moreover, the biblical sabbatical reminds us that we are mere tenants and stewards answerable to the landLord.

R&R: Taking a break to air out the brain, to turn off the wake-up alarm, to ignore the chirping of cell phones, to work on a personal project or read a book just for fun ... each of us needs it periodically. For rabbis, as for academics, that break is the sabbatical, with some time typically dedicated to a purposeful pursuit. Sabbatical can lead to growth, inspiration, renewed energy and, one hopes, new creativity and productivity.

I appreciate that my sabbatical has been apportioned over three years, a month each year. The first two were spent in Massachusetts so we could have meaningful stretches of time with the grandchildren in their natural habitat. It was winter both times, which encouraged me to stay indoors and focus on songwriting and art. I had composed a couple of songs in college, and there they will stay. Some pieces over the next decades were quiet keepers, and, all along, I'd been composing tunes for Hebrew prayer texts. Beginning in 2018, motivated and inspired by personal stories and, later, by the constraints of the pandemic lockdown and the concurrent political turmoil, songs began pouring out: Songs about the state of our world, relationships, satires, reflections . . .

By the end of 2023, I had 20 original songs in English, and another 20 melodies for biblical or liturgical texts, a few of which have become part of our Shabbat services.

(Recordings — with drums, keyboards, sax and more — should be completed soon.)

The previous sabbatical weeks gave me time to hone the songs and to work on a couple of long-simmering art projects. Those still aren't done, but I made some progress. This year, we're taking two weeks at a time, one stretch with the kids (and art), the other still in flux. I am confident of returning from both with refreshed spirit and inspiration. Perhaps even with a new melody or two.

Update: A few days after this piece was initially submitted, Ellie and I considered options for the other two weeks. Itching to visit Israel to see family and to help out as best we can, we booked a ten-day trip, arriving the day after Yom Ha'atzma'ut.

HELP! THANKS! WOW!

Shirat Hayam Florida Reunion Lunch

Cantor Jacki's Message

On the Road One Week of Jewish Connections

After four and a half years of daily rabbinical school classes, one of the new found joys after completing my academic coursework has been the ability to represent Shirat Hayam in a variety of different settings. Earlier this year, travels to three different states during one week in January reminded me how deeply we can still be connected, even after years of physical distance from one another.

Tuesday - New York, NY

Rabbi Geller and I “hit the road” the day before to attend the post-sheloshim event that was held at Hebrew Union College- Jewish Institute of Religion in honor and memory of the “scholar and mensch” Rabbi Dr. David Ellenson, z”l, former chancellor and president of the college institute.

A true visionary, Rabbi Ellenson, “integrated and demonstrated academic erudition, tactful leadership, and interpersonal care, embodying a vision of both Reform Judaism and Jewish pluralism. Perhaps the only scholar to have earned honorary degrees from HUC-JIR, JTS, and Yeshiva University.”

With HUC-JIR President (and former Beth Judah member) Dr. Andrew Rehfeld.

Paying homage to this great man in company with leaders from all over the Jewish world, we also had the opportunity to share a few moments with Ventnor born, former Beth Judah congregant Dr. Andrew Rehfeld, President of HUC-JIR.

The highlight of this road trip was sharing my favorite coffee shop (Caffe Reggio) and cappuccino with Rabbi Geller along with the much valued personal time with our beloved Emeritus rabbi.

Thursday - Margate and Boca Raton, FL

I caught the last flight out of Atlantic City on Wednesday evening and flew to Ft. Lauderdale, FL. My stepmom, Sharon opened up her home on the wee hours so I could crash at her condo in Margate (south, that is!). It had been six months since my dad passed away, and the first time I had returned to their home. The prayer book, Mishkan Tefilah, was still on the dining room table, as it always was when my dad logged into Friday night services at Shirat Hayam.

Sharon was particularly excited to join everyone at Ben's Deli in Boca for the “Florida Reunion”, a tradition to which she was relatively new, but to our Shirat Hayam community, deeply embedded in synagogue tradition.

I was particularly moved by the depth of connection between long time, newer, former, and prospective members, many of whom spend much of their time in different parts of the country.

Sunday - Philadelphia, PA

Following a vibrant morning with our students at Galeem, Mitch and I headed off to Philly and the historic congregation Rodeph Shalom on Broad Street. It had been almost ten years since my last concert in the hallowed sanctuary and I was excited to be able to join friends and colleagues again after such a long time apart.

Cantors from Philadelphia and South Jersey came together to present a Benefit Concert for Israel. The glorious sound and deep hearted passion of the cantors' ensemble banished the dreary weather outside the synagogue that afternoon.

Connections abounded. I realized that one of my colleagues who was present had recently taught Mussar (Jewish ethical practice) to an active member of our congregation, who was also in attendance! All three of us were together, sharing this special Jewish moment in person.

As we look toward the future, I hope that the moments of each of our lives can be enhanced by the Jewish connections we continue to make l'dor vador, from generation to generation.

B'havah (with love),
Cantor Jacki Menaker

Rabbi Gordon Geller (HUC- JIR '67) and Cantor Jacqueline Menaker (HUC-JIR DFSSM '07) at the New York campus of Hebrew Union College.

Our joyous and wonderful holiday of Purim is upon us! We are told to eat, drink (especially drink) and be merry! There is a Talmudic statement that says, "It is the obligation of each person to be so drunk (during Purim) as not to be able to tell the difference between 'Blessed be Mordechai' and 'Cursed be Haman'.

It was known that Persian kings during that time married from only seven leading families in Persia; therefore, our King would not have been able to marry Esther. Some scholars believe that Purim dates to an ancient pagan festival due to the uncanny resemblance between the names of Mordechai and Esther to Marduk and Ishtar, two important pagan gods of that time. There is such a factual nature throughout the story - such as in the very first chapter when the King and his men decide they needed to ban Queen Vashti for her disobedience to the King so that all the wives in the kingdom would be obedient to their husbands.

These facts lean towards Purim not being factual, but a wonderful story written to inspire the Jewish people. It is a story about a Jewish woman marrying a non-Jew and still rallying for the safety and salvation of the Jewish people.

Its messages and sentiments ring as true today as when it was written!

It is traditional that we send Mishloach Manot gifts to friends, and it is a wonderful addition to any B'nei Mitzvah project! We give Tzedakah. We bake and eat Hamantaschen! We hear the Megillah (Book of Esther) read and we blot out the name of Haman with our groggers when it is spoken or chanted! It is a fantastic time where everyone is in a "Mardi Gras" mood.

Purim is the perfect time to open our doors and welcome those that might not have felt so comfortable, as many do not know the minhag (custom) or liturgical melodies. Jews and non-Jews alike, we sing, pray, and hear the Megillah read. Our Service starts quietly with the candles being blessed, Light These Lights.

The melodies for the Service in most Temples are altered. Some sing the traditional tefilot to pop tunes or commercial jingles. The Service has an air of lightheartedness and joy. All in anticipation of the Purim shpiel comes at the end. There are beautiful traditional songs, Ani Purim and Chag Purim (hear music). Hey-man composed by Steven Richards. When daily stresses and strife take tolls on us, we have the respite of Purim, its customs and foods, and the remembrance of a brave Jewish woman who defends the Jewish people. We are blessed to have an island of time on which we can celebrate and make a joyful noise. Together!

PURIM BAG PROJECT...SHALACH MANOT

Our Purim Bag Project (Shalach Manot or Mishloach Manot) is always a great fundraising success, raising over $12,000 last year. Thank you to our wonderful office staff Cathleen Kunkle and Lauren Feldman AND our deep appreciation to our Facilities Staff Manager Derrick Anderson.

When you receive your Shirat Hayam Purim Bag list in the US mail, please check off the names of your recipients; that will reserve their gift bags. Then return your list promptly. Please consider increasing your contribution to include the entire Shirat Hayam Congregation for the traditional amount of $236.00. It's a great way to share the joy of Purim with your friends and our Shirat Hayam Community.

We thank BF Mazzeo's of Northfield for the donation of apples and oranges and Noah Bronkesh for coordinating this donation. Thank you to J.S. Goldstein and Roth-Goldsteins for donating the chocolate bars for the bags.

Volunteers are needed to assemble the bags and deliver them to our Island Community on Monday morning, March 18 and throughout that week. We can't do this without you all. OUR VOLUNTEERS ARE THE CORE OF SHIRAT HAYAM.

ADULT ED I

We are excited about the new Lunch and Learn program that will take place once a month on Wednesdays. This will feature an eclectic list of speakers dealing with a variety of subjects. Please save the dates March 6 and April 3, and watch your mail for more information.

Beginning in June, we will offer a Monday Lunch Study Group, 3 times a month so as not to conflict with the Book Club or Current Controversies groups, to explore the book Frankly Feminist. Different stories will be assigned for every week and there will be a formal presentation by different presenters followed by discussion and participation. If you are “down the shore” for the weekend, please stay over and attend this group on Mondays.

In July, we are partnering with BJE and having a series of speakers on 3 Wednesday evenings. The presentation will be followed by fellowship and dessert. The topics will include “Woke Anti-Semitism” and “Righteous Gentiles” as well as other current and historic topics. More program information will be sent as soon as it is available. Any suggestions are heartily welcomed.

Please contact me at momgeller@aol.com to give your suggestions or, better yet, volunteer to be on the committee.

COMING SOON...SHIRAT HAYAM PURIM WEEKEND CELEBRATIONS

Purim Potluck, Purim Megillah reading, Wine Tasting, and Galeem and Family Purim Party!!!

March 22-24, 2024 ▪ Adar 13-14 5784

Purim is marked by several customs, but the primary commandment is reading aloud the Book of Esther (The Megillah). It's customary whenever Haman's name is mentioned for listeners to boo, hiss, and rattle noisemakers called groggers. Purim also commands us to eat, drink, be merry, and make fun. It's also customary to send gift baskets to loved ones (shaloch manot), give to charity, and even dress up in costume.

Purim Events at Shirat Hayam: Come to one or to all activities as we get ready for Shabbat and Purim!!

▪ Friday, March 22, 6:15pm: Celebrate Shabbat and get a head start on the Purim holiday with a delicious *Purim Potluck Meal provided by our congregants. Join us first for a Conservative Friday Erev Shabbat service at 5:30pm or, after the potluck, take part in our Reform Shabbat service at 7:30pm.

*Please sign up with Elaine Geller at momgeller@aol.com to determine your food contribution.

▪ Saturday night, March 23, 7:00-9:30pm say so long to Shabbat and officially welcome the Purim holiday with a se'uda shlishit (third meal), Passover wine pairing/tasting, Havdala, the evening service, and the reading of Megillot Esther.

▪ Sunday morning, March 24, 9am to Noon, Galeem and Shirat Hayam Programming Committee are sponsoring a fantastic Purim party for our Galeem children, their families, and our congregation. To start our program, our talented Shirat Hayam kids will perform in a Purim Spiel, The Megillah of Oz, under the direction of Cantor Jacki. DJ Ken Schaffer (back by popular demand!!) will introduce our children, dressed in costume at the Purim Fashion Show, for their "red carpet" moment after which the costume party will continue with everyone dancing to the music of DJ Ken and participating in special activities. Hamantaschen and delicious food will be available. The PJ Library, under the direction of Josh Cutler, Director of BJE, will be hosting a special arts and crafts table filled with holiday children's books to read and explore.

So put on your crowns, masks, and costumes and ... get ready to PARTY!!! Everyone is sure to have a great time.

It's difficult to believe the excitement that is generated every Sunday at Galeem. For Tu B'shevat, for example, after a rousing song fest and morning service with Cantor Jacki, the younger students attended a Tu B'Shevat seder, led by Rabbi Kramer, who just finished an inspiring service with the older students, and Cantor Jacki. The pre-K through grade 2, enjoyed the various fruits and loved the "juice ritual" which changes the grade juice from purple to white symbolizing the change of seasons as the seder progresses. What was the favorite food, you might ask? Guacamole and Tostitos, of course. The yogurt raisins were definitely second choice. As the younger students, returned to regular classes, the upper classes attended their seder, which was experiential and thoughtful causing our students, in one part of the seder, to compare themselves or acquaintances to the fruits, for example, that had hard shells but soft insides, bringing to mind, of course, Sabras. Again, the favorite food was guacamole and chips.

We are looking forward to the Siddur Assembly on March 3 when Arielle Greenberg, Carson Kahn, and Eli Tafeen will receive their Siddurs. This is a very special time for the students. Please join us.

Purim has a life of its own at Shirat Hayam. On Sunday, March 24, we have an extravaganza of galactic proportions planned. We will begin with the famous Beauty Pageant as all the Esthers and Mordechais will walk the red carpet. Following this will be the Purim Shpiel, directed by Cantor Jacki with help from Beth Sanders. We are lucky to get to see this first because I predict that it's Broadway bound. The shpiel will be followed by a Purim Party complete with a DJ, food, and the PJ Library. How much fun can someone have in a morning?

We would love to have you come visit us anytime. Read a book to the students, bring a snack, play the T'fillot game, join for meaningful morning services and Havdallah. We can always use help. I guarantee you will get more out of it than you put into it. Promise.

SPOTLIGHT ON

Regina 'Jean' Kohl

Jean Kohl, husband Ray, and their daughters Susan and Ielyne became NJ residents in 1997. Their connection to Atlantic City was strengthened every summer they vacationed in A.C.

There are many organizations over the years that have benefited from Jean's love of people and volunteering, including (to name a few) the Miss America Pageant Parent Committee, Children's Seashore House in Atlantic City, the Milton and Betty Katz JCC, NJ Shore Arts Association, MAPS Foundation, Schultz-Hill Foundation, and Gilda's Club. In 2015 for her selfless work, Jean was inducted into Atlantic County Women's Hall of Fame. Jean's efforts did not end at the borders of the United States. She volunteered three times for the Worldwide Israel Army SAREL program, living on base.

Jean enjoys Rummikub and socializing at the Lynn Kramer Village by the Shore.

Connecting to Judaism is important for Jean. Cantor Jacki acknowledges that she is a "vital member of our Shirat Hayam community." She zooms Reform services regularly, arriving early and staying late.

Jean is an inspiration to her granddaughters, Orange Girtz and Réyne DeDominico and great-grandchildren, Ethan and Indigo Girtz, and Isabella and River Grace Armusewicz.

Jean Kohl will be turning 100 on March 23rd. A special Shabbat service will be held March 29, 2024 at 7:30 PM in her honor with an oneg sponsored by her family.

Stanley Grossman

Stanley Grossman has sand in his shoes. Born and raised in Atlantic City into a family of businessmen, Stanley (after receiving a Master's Degree in Business Administration from Harvard) and brother Morton, became third generation owners of Kensington Furniture. Today, at 94 years young, Stanley still occasionally goes into the store. His son Michael, Kensington's current owner, says his father always has an insight into how to better serve customers. "Once a retailer, always a retailer."

Having grown up in a family involved in Jewish life, until Covid, Stanley was a faithful attendee of Beth Judah/Shirat Hayam services. A past Beth Judah board member, he served as Chairman of the Building Committee for our current building. Stanley's civic involvement is extensive and includes being on the board of the Miss America Pageant for 20 years. The most fun Stanley ever had was being Master of Ceremonies for Frank Sinatra's concert at Boardwalk Hall to benefit Atlantic City Medical Center, thereby transforming medical care in the Atlantic City area.

Stanley met his wife Marsha (z"l), when he was a counselor at the JCC's Camp by the Sea. Marsha also had a rich legacy of community volunteer work, active in Jewish Federation and founder of Stockton's well-respected Holocaust Resource Center.

Stanley has 4 children: Mark, Jimmy, Michael, and Margery and 10 grandchildren, (7 boys, 3 girls). He enjoys being with friends, going out to dinner, having good conversations, reading newspapers and magazines.

SHIRAT HAYAM
PASSOVER CELEBRATION
2ND NIGHT

Tuesday ■ April 23, 2024
5:45pm Seder prelude ■ Seder 6:10pm

RSVP ABSOLUTE DEADLINE:
THURSDAY, MARCH 28

This year Pesach begins the evening of April 22nd and ends April 30th.

Our Jewish traditions and laws have their origins in the wilderness. Four of the five books of Moses are almost entirely devoted to leaving Egypt and journeying to the land of Israel. Our identity and faith are rooted in the story we tell and relive every year in the month of Nisan. We have told this heroic story for over 4,000 years.

Join our Shirat Hayam community April 23rd for the SECOND night of Passover, as we celebrate and tell the story of our freedom and journey from Egypt during a traditional Seder conducted by Rabbi Jonathan Kremer.

Couvert:
$45.00* for members and their families
$60.00 for nonmembers

Please note that dinner is partially subsidized for our members by Shirat Hayam.*

The traditional menu, catered by Panache, consists of soup, appetizer, entrée, 2 sides, dessert, wine, matzah and Seder plates for the tables.

The Programming and Kitchen Committees are thrilled to bring you this wonderful event. Join us as we come together this year as a synagogue community in joyous observance of this traditional holiday.

Chag Pesach Sameach!!

Julia Bradley Koch Becomes Bat Mitzvah

Julia Bradley Koch will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, April 20, 2024. Julia's Torah portion is Acharei Mot.

Julia is the daughter of Stephanie Lutz-Koch and sister to Layla Harper Koch. Her grandparents are Susan and Fred Lutz. Julia is in the 7th grade at Tighe School in Margate. After Julia discovered that neither her grandmother (Nanny) nor her great grandmother (GiGi) had the opportunity to become a Bat Mitzvah, she dedicated her Bat Mitzvah journey to them, promising that they would have the opportunity to read with her, from the Torah, at her Bat Mitzvah, thereby symbolizing the evolution of equality along her familial lineage.

For her mitzvah project, Julia made and sold Kabballah bracelets, each including a Star of David charm, selling them to friends, family, and the greater community. Proceeds are being sent to Impact Israel, a non-profit organization serving youth in Israel.

Torah Fund and YES Fund Event 6PM ■ WEDNESDAY ■ APRIL 10

Shirat Hayam Sisterhood has the opportunity to participate in pre-serving, promoting, and perpetuating both Conservative and Reform Judaism. Your donation to the Torah Fund Campaign of Women's League for Conservative Judaism and/or the YES (Youth, Education, and Special Projects) Fund of Women of Reform Judaism supports scholarships for rabbinic and cantorial students in campuses both here in the United States and abroad.

As the results of our past efforts, many of our Sisterhood members have contributed to the spiritual, aesthetic, and material well-being of these educational communities by supporting Torah Fund and YES Fund.

Join us for a delicious dinner and exciting program at Shirat Hayam Wednesday, April 10th at 6PM as we celebrate our Sisterhood unity and raise funds and awareness for these two worthy funds. Sisterhood members will receive their invitations in the mail.

Your contribution of $36.00 or more to Torah Fund (JTS) or the YES Fund (WRJ) will enable future Jewish leaders, educators, and scholars to pursue their passion and goals. Contributions can be made directly on Torah Fund or YES websites.

THE KIDS and CAMPING 2024

Interested in Jewish camping this summer for your kids? But finances a bit tight?

The Reform movement has many great camp choices including Camp Harlam. The Conservative movement encourages the vast Camp Ramah options. Many Reform and Conservative camps are still open for enrollment.

Financial help may be available. Be in touch with Rabbi Kremer or Cantor Jacki for information.

Also, contact Scholarship Chairperson, Linda Kulp at omalsk609@gmail.com to find out more.

And for the rest of us who may not have kids in the camp age? Consider dedicating your tribute donations to supporting Summer Camping Programs. This is such a positive way to encourage a positive Jewish identity for our youth in the near and long term.
